Index Description

The UBS CMCI Sustainability Transition Total Return (USD) (the Index) measures the collateralized returns from a diversified basket of commodity futures contracts from sectors such as energy, industrial metals, precious metals, agriculture and livestock. It is designed to provide diversity across contract tenors and as such invests a weighted amount into available CMCI Standard Constant Maturities, ranging from 3 months up to a maximum of 3 years. The weighting of the commodity futures contracts incorporates an Ecological-Social (E-S) commodity rating that has been developed by rfu, a leading and independent provider of sustainable investment research. The rfu E-S score assesses the social and the ecological impact of a commodity over the entire life cycle, from production to utilization. The aim is to gradually improve the index portfolio level E-S score with each annual rebalancing starting from 2021.

Further information on the Index, the index composition and the historical performance is available on the UBS KeyInvest product page www.ubs.com/keyinvest or on the UBS Bloomberg CMCI web portal www.ubs.com/cmci

Significant Risks for Investors

Investors in this Product should be experienced investors and familiar with both derivative products and the financial markets. Potential investors should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Product and shall only reach an investment decision after careful considerations with their legal, tax, financial and other advisors of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Product in the light of their own particular financial, fiscal and other circumstances (ii) the information set out in this document and (iii) the Underlying(s).

In addition to the market risk with regard to the development of the Underlying, each investor bears the general risk that the financial situation of the Issuer could deteriorate ("Issuer Risk"). The Products constitute immediate, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, which, particularly in case of insolvency of the Issuer, rank pari passu with each and all other current and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, with the exception of those that have priority due to mandatory statutory provisions. The general assessment of the Issuer's creditworthiness may affect the value of the Products. This assessment generally depends on the ratings assigned to the Issuer or its affiliated companies by rating agencies such as Moody's, Fitch and Standard & Poor's. The Issuer Rating indicated in this document reflects the situation at the time of issuance and may be subject to change. The actual Issuer Rating at any given time can be seen on the Issuer's website (www.ubs.com) under "Investor Relations".

In addition to the risk factors below, further risk factors are set out in the UBS Swiss Base Prospectus for the Issuance of Securities

Product specific risks

Loss Potential	Investors may lose some or all of the investment as they are fully exposed to the performance of the Underlying.
Capital Protection (at Expiry)	None
Risk Potential in comparison to a direct investment in the Underlying	The risk potential is similar as with a direct investment in the Underlying.
Issuer Call right	Yes. Please refer to the respective definition in Section «General Information».
Stop Loss Event	None
No recourse to Underlying:	The investors' only recourse in respect of the Product is to the Issuer, and investors will have no recourse to the Underlying or to any other assets.
Extraordinary termination risk	The Product contains terms and conditions that allow the Issuer to terminate and redeem the Product prior to the Redemption Date. In case of such extraordinary termination, the Issuer shall pay to the investors an extraordinary termination amount as determined by the Calculation Agent which is usually equivalent to the market value of the Product. Potential investors should note that the extraordinary termination amount may deviate from and may be considerably below the amount which would be payable pursuant to the final redemption provisions on the Redemption Date. Investors are not entitled to request any further payments on the Product after the termination date.
Adjustment risk	Potential investors should be aware that it cannot be excluded that certain events occur or certain measures are taken (by parties other than the Issuer) in relation to the Underlying(s) which can lead to changes to the Underlying(s) or its concept (e.g. corporate events of a company whose shares constitute an Underlying, market disruption events or other circumstances affecting normal activities). In the case of the occurrence of such events or measures, the Issuer and/or the Calculation Agent are entitled to effect adjustments according to the Product Documentation. Such adjustments might have a negative impact on the value of the Product.
Illiquidity risk in secondary market	The Issuer or the Lead Manager, as applicable, intends, under normal market conditions, to provide bid and/or offer prices for this Product on a regular basis. However, the Issuer

Investors outside of Switzerland should consult their local client advisors.
 Please note that calls made to the numbers marked with an asterisk (*) may be recorded. Should you call one of these numbers, we shall assume that you consent to this business practice.

or the Lead Manager, as applicable, makes no firm commitment to provide liquidity by means of bid and/or offer prices for this Product, and assumes no legal obligation to quote any such prices or with respect to the level or determination of such prices.

Potential investors therefore should not rely on the ability to sell this Product at a specific time or at a specific price. Potential investors should note that prices quoted typically include a spread and therefore may deviate from the market value of the Product. In special market situations, where the Issuer is completely unable to enter into hedging transactions, or where such transactions are very difficult to enter into, the spread between the bid and offer prices in the secondary market may be temporarily expanded, in order to limit the economic risks of the Issuer. Hence, investors might sell at a price considerably lower than the actual price of the Product at the time of its sale. By selling the Product in the secondary market investors may receive less than the capital invested.

In case of a secondary market transaction, there is a possibility that costs, including taxes, related to or in connection with the Product may arise for investors that are not paid by the Issuer or imposed by the Issuer.

Market Disruption risk

Investors are exposed to market disruption events (such as trading disruption, exchange disruption and early closure of the relevant exchange), which could have an impact on the redemption amount through delay in payment, change in value or suspension of trading in the Product in the secondary market. For a detailed description of such events and their effects please refer to the Product Documentation.

Similar risks to a direct investment in futures contracts

The Underlying aims inter alia to replicate the performance of long positions in selected futures. Consequently, an investment in the Products, to a certain extent, is subject to market risks similar to direct investment in such a futures contract. Futures prices can differ substantially from the spot price of the underlying commodity and precious metal. Investors must be aware of the fact that the futures price and, accordingly, the value of the Products does not always move in the same direction or at the same rate as the spot price of such underlying. Therefore, the value of the Products can fall substantially even if the spot price of the relevant underlying of the futures contract remains stable or rises.

Contango and backwardation:

The prices of the longer-term and the shorter-term futures contract can differ even if all other contract specifications are the same. If the prices of longer-term futures contracts are higher than the price of the shorter-term futures contract to be exchanged (so-called contango), the number of futures contracts held is reduced with the Roll-over. Conversely, if the prices of short-term futures are higher (so-called backwardation), the number of futures contracts held is increased with the Roll-over (without taking into account roll-over expenses). In addition, expenses for the roll-over itself are incurred. This may result in a negative effect for the value of the Products and the redemption.

Withholding tax

Investors in this Product should note that any payment under this Product may be subject to withholding tax (such as, inter alia, Swiss Withholding Tax, and/or withholding related to FATCA or 871(m) of the US Tax Code). Any payments due under this Product are net of such tax. Please refer to the Product Documentation for detailed information. If the Issuer is required to withhold any amount pursuant to Section 871(m) or FATCA of the U.S. Tax Code, the Issuer will not be required to pay additional amounts with respect to the amount so withheld.

PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURE

Charts and graphs are provided for illustrative purposes. Past performance is not an indication or guarantee of future results. The charts and graphs may reflect hypothetical historical performance. All information presented prior to the launch date is back tested. Back-tested performance is not actual performance but is hypothetical. The back-test calculations are based on the same methodology that was in effect when the index(es) was officially launched. However, back-tested data may reflect the application of the index methodology with the benefit of hindsight, and historical calculations may change based on revisions to the economic data used in the calculation of the index. Complete index methodology details are available at www.merqube.com. It is not possible to invest directly in any index.

The First Value Date is the first day for which there is a calculated value (either live or backtested) for a given index. The Launch Date designates the date upon which the values of a given index are first considered live: index values provided for any date or time period prior to the index's Launch Date are considered backtested. MerQube defines the Launch Date as the date by which the values of an index are known to have been released to the public.

The index returns shown do not represent the results of actual trading of securities. MerQube, Inc. does not manage actual assets. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor may pay to purchase the securities underlying the index(es) or investment funds that are intended to track the performance of the index(es). The imposition of these fees and charges would cause actual and back-tested performance of the fund/investment vehicle to be lower than the performance of the index that the vehicle/fund tracks.
